

BFA #2: What-If Baby World/It's a Baby World After All

Proposal Version 1:

The idea of this baby perspective VR experience is to show the viewers a what-if future of our next generation of babies. This is just one of the possibilities that they would have to live through because of our actions that is affecting our world as of 2019. While people focus more on getting “likes”, going viral, getting followers, gossiping celebrity, being angry, and playing victim, the world is descending into a chaotic state. Donald Trump wants to build a wall on the southern border, global warming is stirring up harsh weathers, Swedish is the rape capital of the world, the ecological footprint of the world will use up the natural resources soon, etc. The house setting will incorporate these issues into the household items, toys, and parts of the house itself to represent them. Combining all these with the imagination of a baby and the enormous scale of the environment. The scale will hopefully give the viewers of how small they are to the world. There will also be positive aspect of the future too.

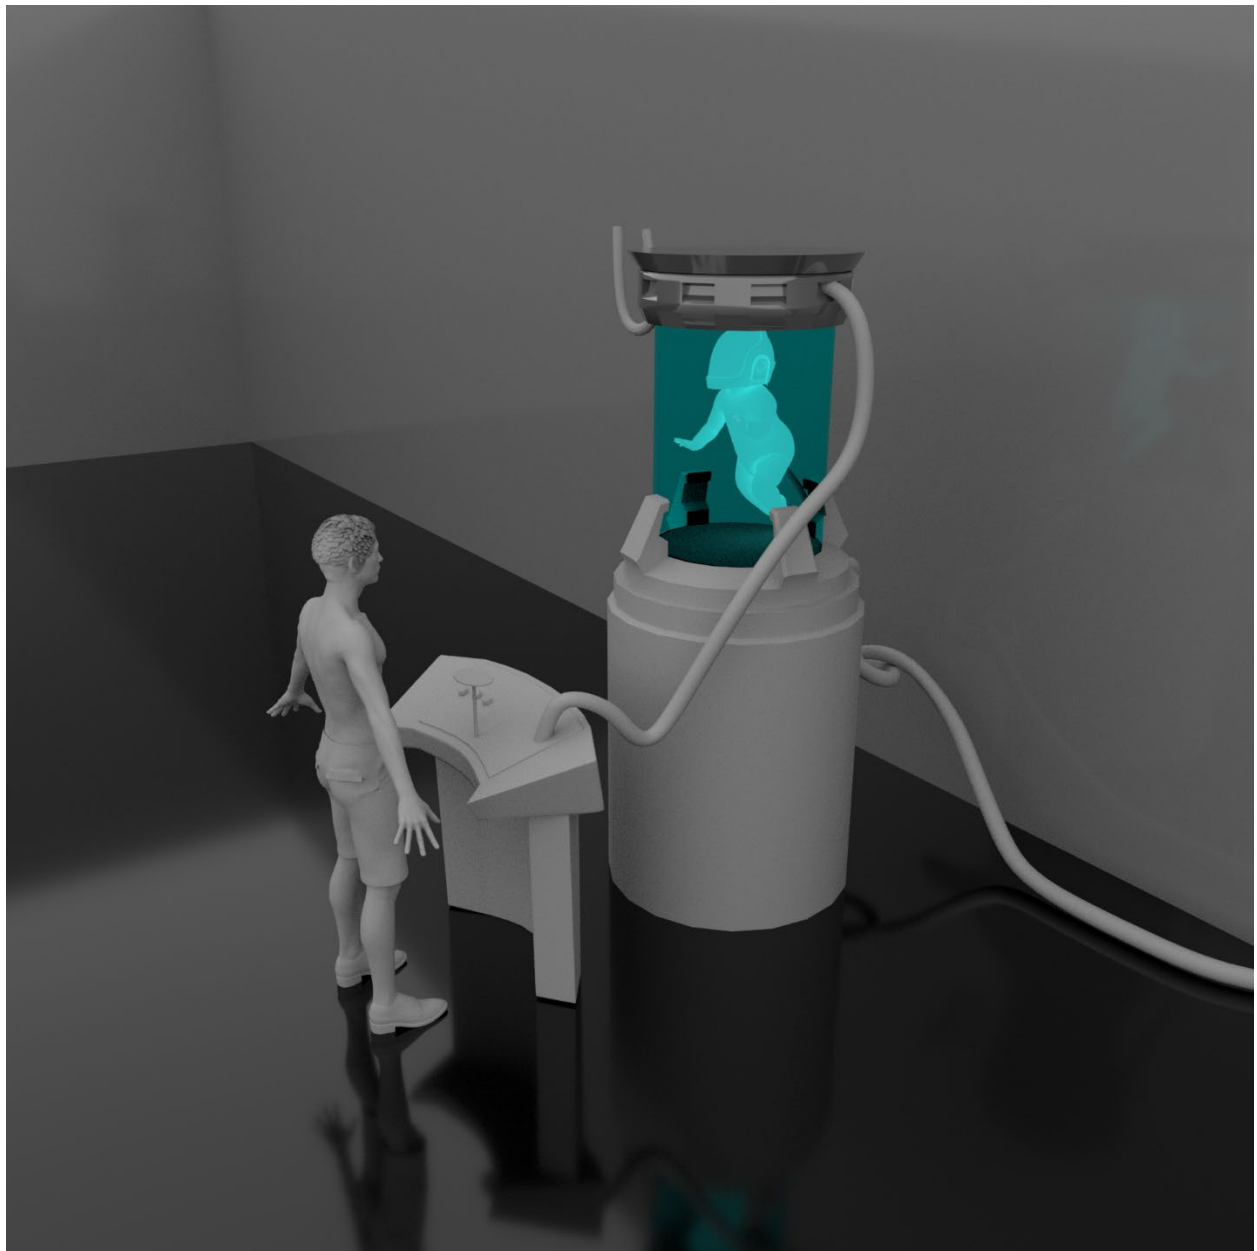

Inspirations:

- Baby Hands VR
- Among the Sleep (VR)
- My friends are having babies
- Theories of the future of our future generations
- Environmental Class

Equipment:

- 3D printer (own)
- VR headset (Oculus Go)
- 3D modeling program (Maya 2018 and Substance Designer)
- Display items (?)

Display Prototype w/ Oculus GO headset on the table (Maybe add an Adult Baby Walker?)

Sample Floor Plan (imagination added soon)

